

Say Yes to FCS

Family & Consumer Sciences

IN WASHINGTON

Are you interested?

How would you respond to these questions?

- Do you like helping others?
- Do you like working with young children?
- Are you interested in nutrition?
- Do you stay up to date on the latest trends in fashion?

- Do you like design shows?
- Are you interested in culinary arts?
- Is your favorite class a family and consumer sciences class?

If you answered yes, you need to consider a future as a family and consumer sciences teacher...

I love the variety of topics family and consumer sciences teachers get to teach every day.

Caitlin Almaguer Kennewick High School

There are jobs!

Family and consumer sciences is experiencing a shortage of candidates for the positions available.

According to the article, "10 Best Degrees for Finding a Job," by Andrea Argueta...

...Family and Consumer Sciences degrees rank in the top 10 best degrees for finding a job

The shortage is nation-wide! There is a need for FCS teachers in 37 states in 2017! Check out this article by Carol Werhan, Ph. D.

http://www.aafcs.org/res/newsroom/JFCS_105-4_Werhan.pdf

Adapted from Indiana flyer.

WASHINGTON STATE
UNIVERSITY

Washington State University

Department of Human Development
hdpullman@wsu.edu

Central Washington University

Department of Family and Consumer Sciences
FCSdept@cwu.edu

Seattle Pacific
UNIVERSITY

Engaging the culture, changing the world®

Seattle Pacific University

Department of Family and Consumer Sciences
fcs@spu.edu

INTERACTIVE DISTANCE EDUCATION ALLIANCE

Great Plains IDEA

Post Baccalaureate FCS Teacher Certification Program
berghk@cwu.edu