LETTER TO ADVISERS

Washington FCCLA Chapter Advisers:

The Washington FCCLA State Officer Program provides tremendous opportunities for students to gain new leadership skills, learn critical thinking, improve their planning and organizational skills, become stronger speakers, demonstrate initiative, and much more. Holding a State Officer position is a unique and valuable experience that we are excited to share with your students!

Along with the considerable benefits that come with being a State Officer, there are important responsibilities that officers take on; and we need your help to ensure that students who plan to run for state office are aware of these responsibilities. If appointed, both you and they will ensure that those responsibilities are fulfilled.

As an adviser with a State Officer, the expectation is that you will complete the responsibilities outlined on the next page.

By signing the forms included in this packet, you are making a commitment to your candidate/state officer and Washington FCCLA. Training and directing state officers is a team effort, and it is essential that the officer's adviser be a part of that team.

Thank you for encouraging your student to step forward and to seek a position as a Washington FCCLA State Officer.

Sincerely,

Trent Misak, Executive Director
Washington FCCLA

IS RUNNING FOR WASHINGTON FCCLA STATE OFFICE RIGHT FOR ME?

We are so excited that you are considering being appointed for a Washington FCCLA State Officer position! The opportunities provided to state officers are very important and many of our state officer alumni count their time as an officer as a pivotal experience in their lives. Along with the opportunities and benefits of being an officer come many responsibilities. The state staff will be by your side all year to help you balance personal, academic, and officer life, but be sure that you carefully consider your decision to run for state office and what it requires.

The time that State Officers will have to commit to FCCLA each week will vary based on projects and events each month. Prior to state officer meetings, conferences, and FCCLA events, the amount of time required tends to spike as officers finalize preparations and polish up projects. Now remember: your academics are always your #1 priority, but you are expected to stay on top of your FCCLA projects as well.

If you are elected, you will be required to attend conferences, officer meetings, and FCCLA events throughout the year. You will not be allowed to leave early, come late, or miss any parts of these events (except in the case of an extreme emergency). If an emergency or unavoidable conflict does occur, you will be expected to communicate with State Staff in a timely manner to discuss options. Although big football games, dances, and sports can be fun, it is expected that these obligations fall second to any FCCLA required event.

If you are willing to take on the challenge in the coming year, running for Washington FCCLA state office is for you! It's perfectly fine to be nervous or apprehensive about running for office, so feel free to reach out to our staff to see if running for state office is right for you. If you decide to run for office, be assured that holding state office will not only be one of the most memorable experiences of your life, but also one that will actively prepare you for professional life after high school, no matter what field you choose to work in. We are excited for your journey and look forward to an incredible year!
